BSBF2022 THE CONFERENCE FOR BIG SCIENCE AND INDUSTRY

SEE YOU IN GRANADA AT BSBF2022

A business-oriented congress

BSBF2022 is the main international meeting place for Big Science research infrastructures and industry. This year's congress will be held in Granada, Spain, 4-7 October. More than 1000 delegates are expected from around 25 countries, representing more than 500 businesses and research organisations working with Big Science.

Participation in BSBF2022 can increase your company's visibility in the Big Science market. This is a unique opportunity for Swedish companies to meet scientists and engineers from the research facilities, and find business opportunities with both the facilities and with other European companies.

Programme

The plenary sessions offer participants a unique opportunity to find out more about the business potential in the European Big Science market. High-level speakers from the participating Big Science organisations will be presenting their individual organisations.

Meetings

At BSBF2022 you can arrange 1-to-1 meetings (B2B/B2C) with other participants, where you can establish new business partnerships or strengthen existing ones. This is an ideal way to network with prime contractors, suppliers, Big Science representatives, and other participating businesses.

Exhibition

BSBF2022 will provide exhibitors with a strong visibility towards organisations, businesses and stakeholders in the Big Science market and a place to interact directly with other participants. Companies wishing to book their own exhibition space should do this directly with BSBF2022.
